2019 Rosé of Tannat

Vintage

After an impossibly rainy 2018, Mid-Atlantic growers welcomed a hot and dry 2019. These conditions were slightly stressful to the vines, but did serve to concentrate flavors in the fruit. Our Rosé of Tannat is essentially a "Tannat Blanc" – we are always amazed at the complexity this varietal gives us as a direct-to-press red grape.

Vineyard

The 2019 Rosé of Tannat showcases 100% Stinson Farms Estate fruit. Vines are cane pruned and close spaced on Braddock soil – a red clay loam derived from crystalline rocks that make up the Blue Ridge Mountains to the west.

Winemaker's Notes

Best known as a deeply colored, tannic varietal, Tannat makes a delicate and fruity rosé when pressed immediately off its skins. Ripe white blossom and grapefruit are perfectly complimented by a vibrant acidity.
